As it turned out, this was another $200 billion the government had to bail out later that year.. The two GSEs were desperately trying to raise enough cash to keep themselves solvent.. Perhaps they didn't realize how derivatives had exported the subprime mortgage defaults throughout the entire financial world.. The agreed to take on $200 billion in bad loans from dealers (actually, and investment banks) in exchange for.. Last, but certainly not least, the Fed had already pumped $200 billion into banks through its Term Auction Facility. What Is Label In Binance Withdraw Best Crypto Bots For Mac
